MY STORY

My path into this work began long before I called it “healing.”

For most of my life, I felt anxious and disconnected - constantly trying to prove my worth. I cared deeply for others, but lost myself in the process. Behind a calm surface, I struggled with depression, panic, and OCD that left me feeling trapped in my own mind.

I tried everything - therapy, running, yoga, medication - but nothing created lasting change.

Still, there was always a quiet inner voice within me saying:
“I just know there has to be more to life than this.”

That voice became my turning point.

I began exploring the subconscious mind, energy work, and deeper self-connection. And for the first time, something shifted.

For the first time, I felt safe within myself.
I stopped fighting my emotions - and started meeting them with love instead of fear.

That changed everything.

I realized that healing isn’t about fixing ourselves.
It’s about remembering who we are beneath the patterns, the fear, and the conditioning.

Today, I guide women through that same transformation.

MY METHOD

As a certified Human Instrument® Mastery Coach, I guide you through a powerful 12-step transformation process designed to create deep, lasting change.

This isn’t surface-level coaching.

Inside this work, we focus on:

- Rewiring subconscious patterns that drive anxiety and self-doubt
- Releasing emotional blocks stored in the body
- Building deep self-trust and inner safety
- Reconnecting you with your authentic self

Over the course of our 6-month journey together, you’ll move from feeling stuck, overwhelmed, and disconnected... to feeling grounded, clear, and confident in who you are.

This is where true, lasting change happens - from the inside out.
